

Acer's Best Adventure Day

Once upon a time there was a little boy called Acer.

Acer always wanted to go on a very very spooky scary adventure.

Then he slept, and his dream came true.

He time travelled somewhere.

He opened his eyes and Acer saw a house, it was a witches' house and then he saw Harry Potter.

Acer asked Harry Potter "where am I?"

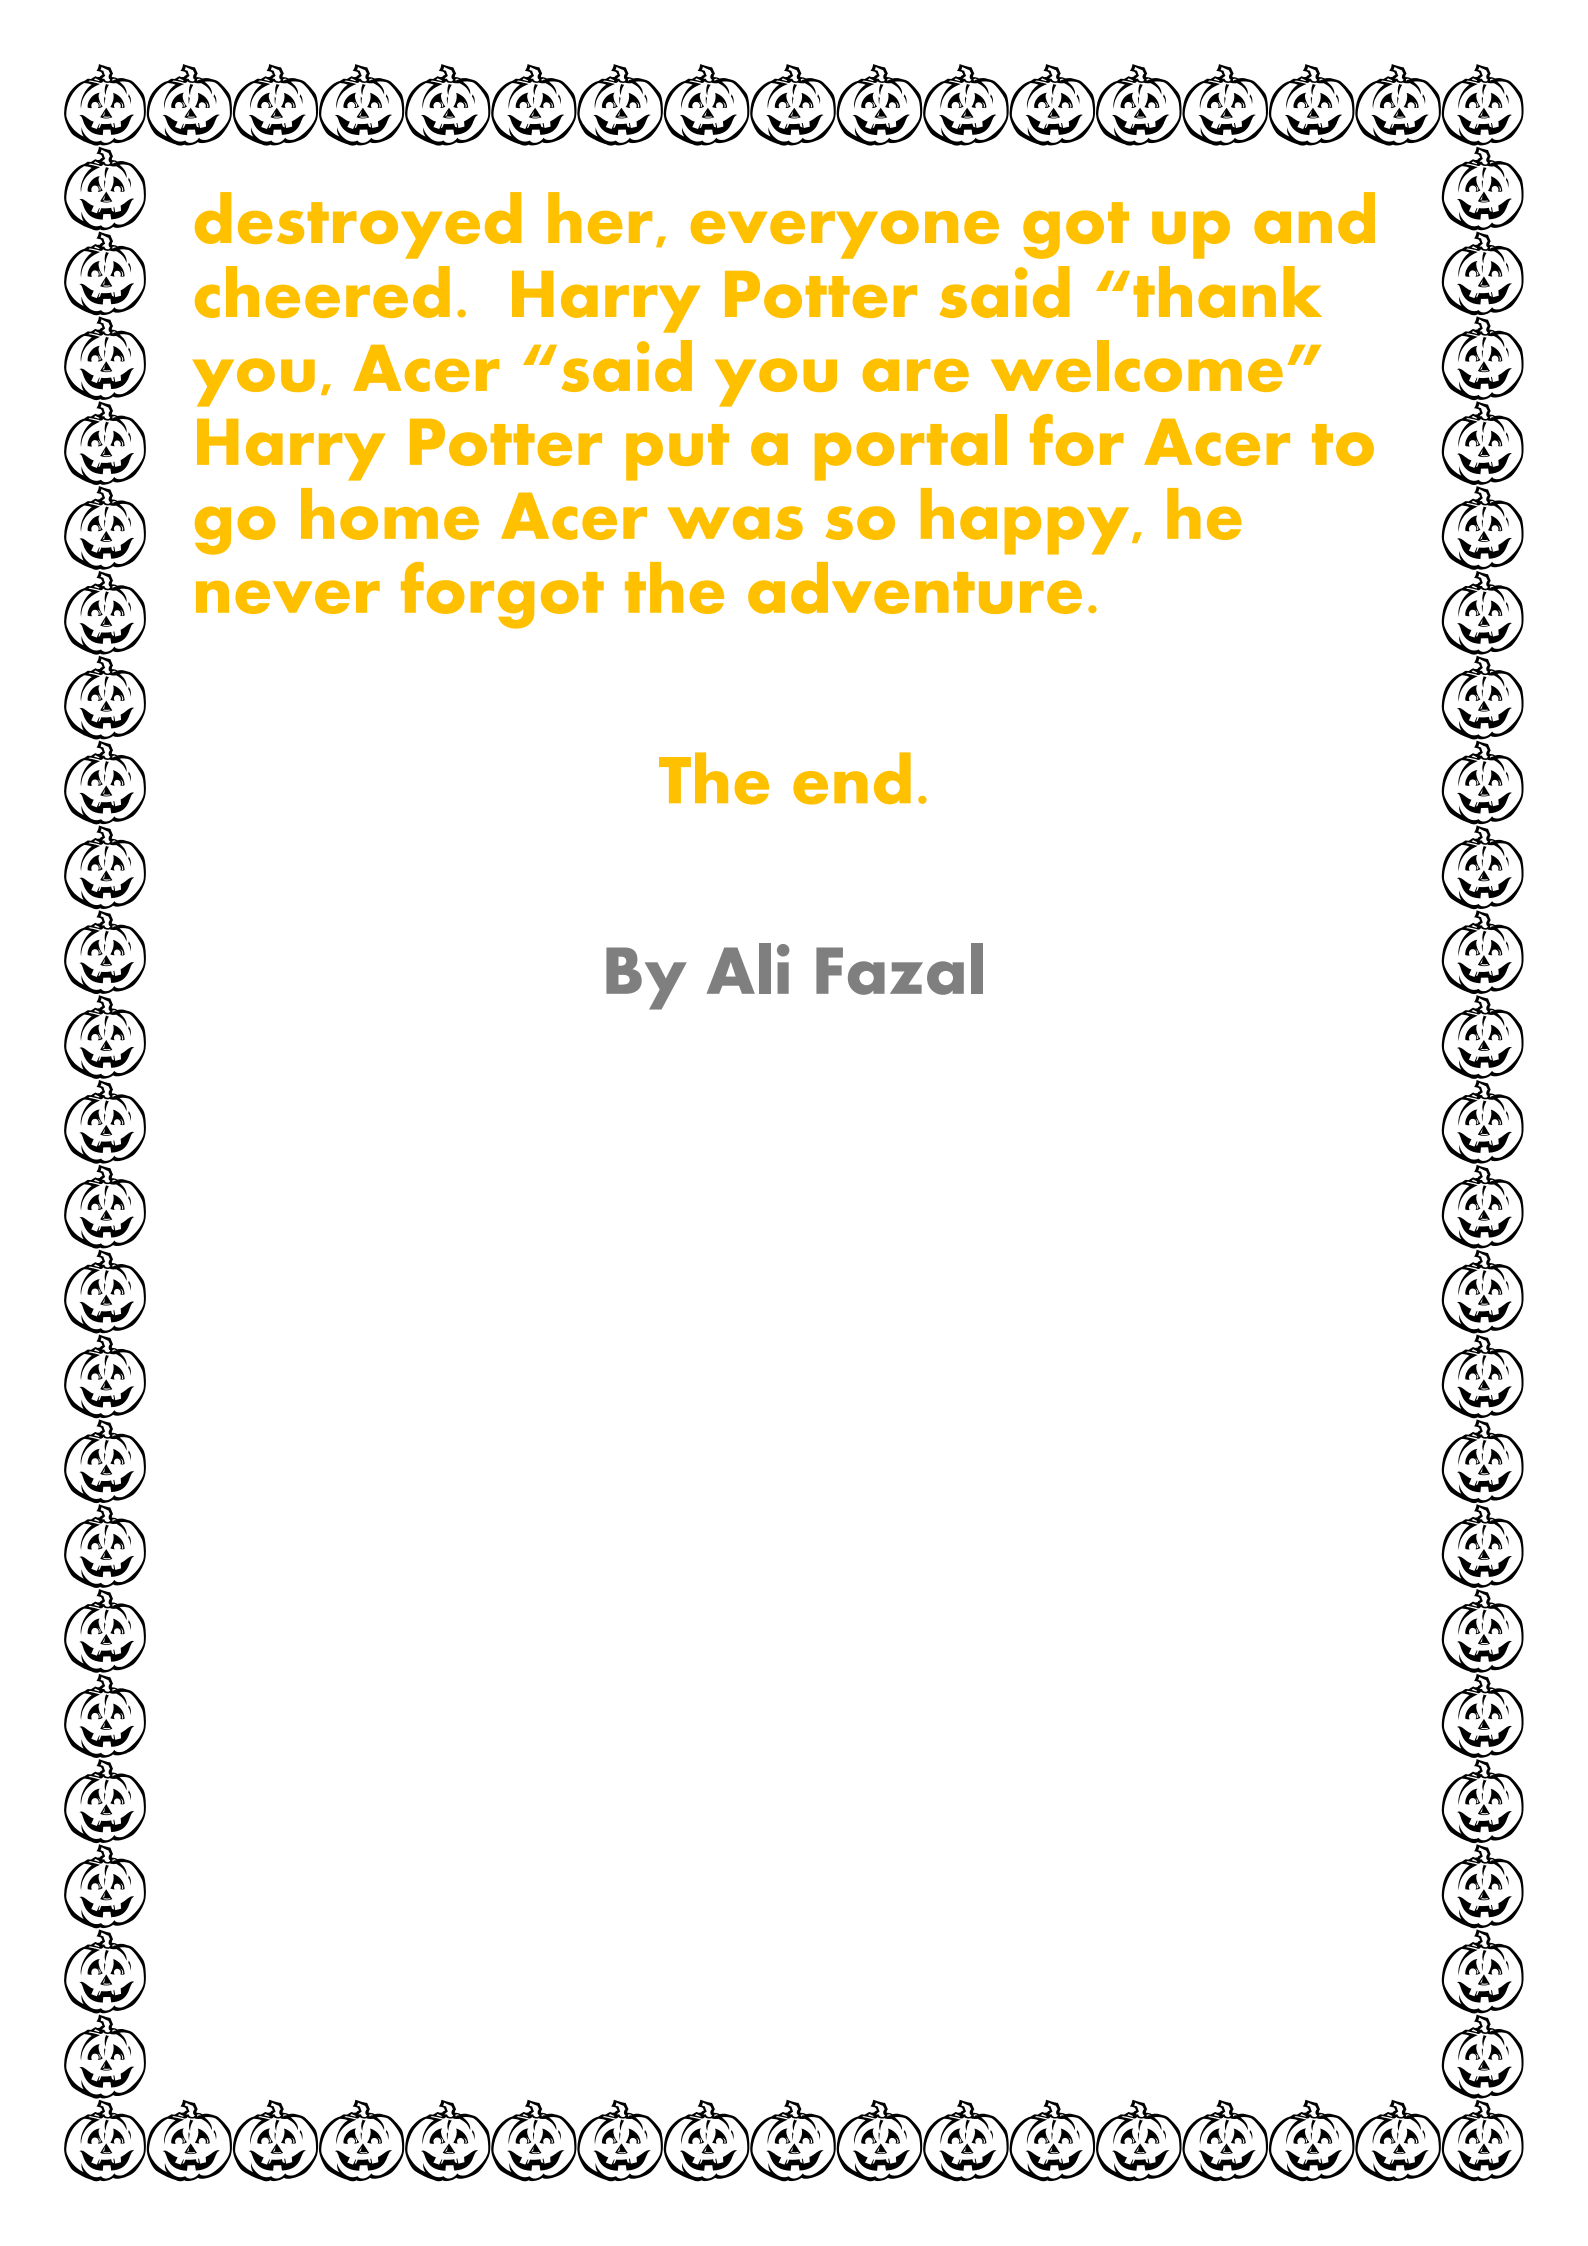

Harry Potter said "you are at wizard school."

Harry Potter said "you are here because there is a witch, we need one more wizard so we chose you because we know you practice pretend magic."

Harry Potter gave Acer the wand, Harry Potter said "fight me with your wand."

The witch came out and made a special spell and it pushed Acer.

Harry Potter and his team put a spell on the witch but then, the same thing happened to them. Acer got up and put a spell on the witch the spell was shazam poo water and it destroyed her, everyone got up and cheered. Harry Potter said "thank you, Acer "said you are welcome" Harry Potter put a portal for Acer to go home Acer was so happy, he never forgot the adventure.

The end.
