

The Mysterious Head(teacher)

Nelly was expecting a normal day at school, but then the head came in and demanded “Nelly!”. She bit a bit nervous but off Nelly went.

“Now Nelly, you have been very good so I want to do a little something; me and you together. Go and invite some friends from your class”, the head said firmly and quickly for she wanted to do some important work.

“Yes, OK, em em em,” said Nelly. She was confused. A couple of moments later Nelly was back at the head's office. Just when Nelly put her first foot in it, the head said “Next week, something was going on. Yes,” said the head “I mean no. Yes. No. Yes. No, no.” Soon, the head exploded!

“Robot!” said Nelly. But who was controlling it? “Adventure for me,” she said.

The next day Nelly was going to her friend's house. Nelly suggested to go to the museum and her friend said “Good idea.” First they went to the dinosaur section.

“Look inside that dinosaur” screamed Nelly.

“There's a person inside it,” said her friend. And both together they said,

“With a remote control!”

Nelly came up and said “why robot?” and went off to free the real head.

A week later the school was back to normal.